The Nutrition Society of South Africa (NSSA) is pleased to announce that it will host the 6th FANUS Conference, taking place from 18–21 October 2027 at the Cape Town International Convention Centre (CTICC), South Africa.

Under the theme “Nutrition for a Resilient and Sustainable Africa: Policy, Science and Practice in a Changing Food Environment,” the conference will bring together nutrition professionals and researchers, policymakers, public and private sector stakeholders, development partners and civil society to explore the interconnected nutrition challenges facing Africa.

The conference aims to foster transdisciplinary dialogue and collaboration, bringing together African leadership, local knowledge and scientific excellence to develop practical, evidence-based and sustainable solutions for improved nutrition, health and resilience across the continent. As an Adhering Body of the International Union of Nutritional Sciences (IUNS), FANUS2027 is committed to maintaining high standards of scientific independence and responsible engagement. Sponsorship and exhibition opportunities are therefore guided by the IUNS Principles of Engagement and relevant recommendations for private-sector sponsorship. All prospective sponsors and exhibitors will be reviewed to ensure alignment with these principles and the objectives of the conference.

Sponsorship and exhibition bookings are now open, and organisations that share a commitment to advancing nutrition science and practice in Africa are invited to participate. Please find the prospectus here:
